DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the “right to exclude” granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claims 1-23 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory double patenting over claims 1-46 of copending Application No. 10/553,712. This is a provisional double patenting rejection since the conflicting claims have not yet been patented.

The subject matter claimed in the instant application is fully disclosed in the referenced copending application and would be covered by any patent granted on that copending application since the referenced copending application and the instant application are claiming common subject matter, as follows: a nipple, springs, balls, piston, and housing.

Furthermore, there is no apparent reason why applicant would be prevented from presenting claims corresponding to those of the instant application in the other copending application.

Drawings

1. New corrected drawings in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in this application because there are no drawing present in the file. Applicant is advised to employ the services of a competent patent draftsman outside the Office, as the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office no longer prepares new drawings. The corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The requirement for corrected drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. Claims 1-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

a. The following claims are vague, indefinite, awkwardly, and confusingly worded:

- i. “any desired part” in claim 1, line 3. This is not true any desired part includes all known parts and not all known parts with sizes and shapes included will not fit. Therefore the the claim is indefinite.
- ii. “its” in claim 1, line 4 and claim 4, line 4. The limitation must be positively recited with proper antecedent basis.

Art Unit: 3723

iii. Regarding claim 4 line 4, and claim 5, line 4 and claim 21, line 6, the phrase "'peg-like" and/or the like and/or likewise" renders the claim(s) indefinite because the claim(s) include(s) elements not actually disclosed (those encompassed by "or the like"), thereby rendering the scope of the claim(s) unascertainable. See MPEP § 2173.05(d).

iv. "other media" in claim 7, like 5. This limitation is not claiming anything because what is media much less other media. The limitation is indefinite.

b. The following claim lacks antecedent basis:

v. "the housing" in claim 1, line 5. These limitations have not been mentioned before.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claims 1-3, 6-21, and 23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Stark (6073325)

Art Unit: 3723

Stark discloses the claimed invention as recited in claims 1- . Stark discloses a clamping cylinder having a insert module (fig.1a), housing (2 with the bottom being a stop ring), piston (9), springs (4), balls (24), screws (13), and internal seal (8).

5. Claims 1-3, 6-21, and 23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Roth et al (6997448).

Roth et al discloses the claimed invention as recited in claims 1- . Roth et al discloses a clamping cylinder having a insert module (fig.1), housing (2', 5 bottom being a stop ring), piston (11), springs (4), balls (16), screws (38), and internal seal (15).

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 4-5 and 22 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The 892 form discloses prior art being made of record.
